Due to the latest ruling by ECJ on the definition of safe countries Italian judges do not approve the detention of the migrants transported to Albania ordering their immediate transfer to Italy. The Italian judges requested ECJ to take position on the list of safe countries issued by the Italian government in light of its ruling. At the same time, the Italian Government requested the Supreme Court to review the legality of the safe country list, and to rule on appeals by the Mol against the rulings that invalidated the detention of migrants in Albania. The Supreme Court decides to suspend its judgement on the case awaiting the ECJ pronouncement, expected to take place in April 2025. It is reasonable to believe that no major changes are to be expected in the ITA/ALB agreement before the ruling by the Italian Supreme Court and by ECJ. According to open sources, staff in the Djader center in Albania is being significantly downsized while awaiting the ruling in the case.
